Dash is a broke pony mare, 13:2 ish , has done trails, gaming, swimming, been to the beach. Can climb all over her, ride her with an inflatable costume, she's not real spooky. Patterned on barrels & gaming events. She's won awards for her previous owner. She neck reins, leads, ties, loads, bathes, crosses water, and p/u feet. Aprox 18-20yrs. She has moon blindness due to her appy genetics, very little vision left, she's been like this since before we got her. But she will go anywhere you point her, and at any speed asked, just steer her around obstacles, and talk to her when to step over things. Does best when used regularly, or she can be pushy, impatient to go. Dash would be perfect for an older kid, teen, or smaller adult, that wants a pony to love and dote on. My daughter is selling dash because with our job we work weekends, and have no time to go trail riding or to gymkhana. She wants her to go to someone that will give her the attention she deserves.
