Story Pebbles is one cute little mare packing a huge hip and babydoll head. There isn't anything outside that she hadn't been exposed to from looking for cattle in the mountains, crossing logs, water and going through thick brush. Bam was also used in a large feed yard where she's seen lots of cattle roping, sorting, doctoring, loading and branding cattle. Pebbles rides out quietly, level headed and rides in the bridle very well with a huge stop and neck reins well. Pebbles will ride outside alone or with other horses, she's not soured or spoiled in anyway shape or form. Pebbles will stand tied beside other mares or geldings and not bother another horse or act mareish. Pebbles is up to date on vaccines and worming.
