Story Bubbles is a cute little mare with a lot of potential to be an awesome all around horse. She needs an intermediate/experienced rider to further her training and just because she is young but she is safe enough to throw your young kiddos on and lead around but she is not a kids horse (yet). You could also throw beginners on in an arena setting and I feel she'd do just fine She's never offered anything naughty (bucking, kicking, bolting, rearing, etc) She's green broke but safe and getting a good handle on her She's easy to handle (catch, tie, load, farrier etc I'd consider more woah then go but not a dead head Not 5 panel tested but is HYPP NEGATIVE. She's been sound her whole life and has pretty solid feet. Doesn't seem tender on gravel or anything. She's got a decent amount of exposure being with me and handles everything ...

She's got a decent amount of exposure being with me and handles everything super well (hauling to new arenas, trail riding, the beach, thrown a rope off her, bareback etc) She seems to handle new experiences really well and like to go do something I think she's a sweet mare and wants to be your friend. She might give you the mare face occasionally if she doesn't want to do something but she's pretty easy going. This is a really nice mare that I wanted to hang onto much longer but life has thrown some curve balls and unfortunately she needs a new home.
